Welcome

Thank you for your interest in applying for this post at the Citizens Advice Derbyshire Districts. We have put together some information below which we hope will help you understand the organisation and the role.

About the Citizens Advice Service

The Citizens Advice service provides free, independent, confidential and impartial advice to everyone on their rights and responsibilities. It values diversity, promotes equality and challenges discrimination.

Aims and Principles of the Citizens Advice Service:

- To provide the advice people need for the problems they face.
- To improve the policies and practices that affect people's lives.

Citizens Advice operates as a network of individual local organisations. The service began in 1939 on the day war was declared. Its aim was to provide information on evacuation, homelessness and missing relations. Over the last 80 years it has developed and grown in both scope and scale. It now delivers advice services from over 3,300 community locations in England and Wales. Last year it helped 2.7 million, saving government and public services £485 million.

Each individual Citizens Advice organisation operates as an independent local charity. It is not a part of Government and is not directly funded by taxes.

The Citizens Advice service works to:

- Inform people about the law and how it affects them and about their rights and responsibilities
- Advise people on the options available to them and on the potential consequences of different courses of action
- Support people as they consider and decide what to do, listening to their concerns and helping them to move forward
- Assist people in pursuing their chosen course of action by self-help, assisted information, negotiation, representation and/or referral to other sources of help
- Influence those responsible for policies and services by bringing to their notice the problems people experience and recommending changes

About Citizens Advice Derbyshire Districts

Citizens Advice Derbyshire Districts is one of the largest Citizens Advice organisations in England. Serving residents in Amber Valley, Derbyshire Dales, Erewash and High Peak, we cover approximately 1,000sq miles and a population of 400,000.

Our aim is to provide a consistent, easily reached and quality service to everyone, regardless of where they live or how they access our help. We help clients from 7 district offices, over 80 outreach locations and operate a weekday telephone advice service. We employ 68 staff and our annual turnover is over £2million. Volunteers are at the heart of our organisation and without them we couldn't provide the depth and range of service we do. The 11 individuals on our Board of Trustees are volunteers, and at present a further 120 volunteers give their time freely across our telephone and generalist advice provision. We're delighted that a number of our current volunteers are former clients who want to share their experiences and help people within their own communities.

We are committed to providing a professional and modern service for the people of Derbyshire, whether they come to us as clients, volunteers or staff members.

We will:

- Be authentic, honest and accountable in all our dealings.
- Put the people in our local communities first.
- Recognise that our staff and volunteers are our greatest asset, and treat them fairly, with dignity and respect.
- Always act in a trusted and professional manner.

How We Help

Help on the high street...

We provide face-to-face help and advice every weekday through our network of main offices across the Derbyshire Districts area.

They are located in Belper and Heanor for Amber Valley, Ilkeston in Erewash, Matlock for Derbyshire Dales, and Buxton, New Mills and Glossop in High Peak. All our offices provide both appointment and drop-in sessions enabling clients to access advice at times to suit their lives.

Help on the phone...

Our Adviceline covers the whole of the Derbyshire Districts area. It operates Monday to Friday, 9.00am to 4.00pm. In 2019/20 more than 13,000 people across the Derbyshire Districts area called our telephone Adviceline.

This service enables clients to make contact with us quickly regardless of location. A short assessment will then establish how best to help the client via signposting or referral, on the spot information or an appointment with an adviser.

Help in the heart of the community...

Our outreach service is one of the largest in the country, serving 84 locations. Our advisers run sessions in most GP surgeries and community buildings across the area. The project is focused on tackling the root cause of problems before they develop into health and crisis issues.

Specialist Support

Money Advice and Financial Capability

We have a team of specialists available to help some of our most vulnerable clients. The service is provided at our main offices and a number of outreach locations across the Derbyshire Districts area. Last year we managed £7million of client debt. This included helping to reschedule arrears or having debts written off. We also help people to manage their finances and maximise their incomes.

Pension Wise

Following pension reforms in April 2015, people now have greater freedom to access their pension pots when they reach the age of 50. Citizens Advice Derbyshire Districts was chosen to deliver Pension Wise across Derbyshire and most of Nottinghamshire. The project is an impartial Government service to help people understand their options and empower them to make the right choices.

Giving Our Communities a Voice

As well as providing advice and support to help people resolve their money, legal and other problems, we are working hard to change the lives of our clients by informing and influencing policy makers. We use evidence of our clients' experiences to campaign for improvements in laws and services that affect everyone, whether they use our organisation or not. We are involved in economic development and regeneration, reducing poverty and debt, and increasing spending in our local neighbourhoods. We help bring our communities together by increasing social inclusion and improving health.

We are currently developing an evidence data bank of need across Derbyshire and undertaking research into access to services. This work will enhance our service provision and ensure our future campaigns reflect the needs of our communities.

We had success when we joined the national Fair Play for Prepay campaign, to help some of our most vulnerable clients get a better deal on their energy bills. All 6 main energy suppliers were successfully persuaded to put their share of a £6 million pay-out of unallocated prepayment meter payments into their individual hardship and trust funds to help their most vulnerable energy customers.

Equal Opportunities Statement

The Citizens Advice service is committed to providing a supportive and inclusive culture for all those who need our services, our volunteers, our staff, our partner organisations and other stakeholders. We recognise the positive value of diversity, promote equality and fairness, and challenge discrimination.

We welcome our legal duties not to discriminate as a service provider and an employer. We aim to go beyond the narrow scope of legislative compliance and follow best practice, making equality, fairness and diversity a fundamental part of all our activities.

We recognise and will seek to address the many reasons why people or groups may be discriminated against or excluded, for example poverty, rural isolation, race, ethnicity, disability, mental health, sexual orientation, age, religion, nationality and gender.

1. Members of the community can expect their local Citizens Advice to:

- be publicly identified as a champion of equality and diversity;
- seek partnerships with other organisations that share those values;
- understand and seek to serve the needs of its community, particularly those within it most likely to experience exclusion, disadvantage and discrimination.

2. People who need to use the Citizens Advice service can expect to:

- be able to access the service in ways that suit them¹;
- be given help that is relevant to their problem and situation;
- be treated fairly, with dignity and respect, and without discrimination;
- have their needs listened to, and met whenever possible.

If clients believe they have been subject to discrimination in accessing or receiving services from the Citizens Advice service, we would urge them to use the CAB complaints procedure. This has a number of stages, including consideration by the chief executive of Citizens Advice and, following that, an external adjudicator. As well as dealing with the issue raised, we will seek to learn from the complaint and take action to improve our services to prevent the problem happening for other clients.

People who use the service have a responsibility to treat others with dignity and respect and without discrimination. Those who do not may be denied access to our services.

3. Staff can expect to:

- be treated fairly, with dignity and respect, and without discrimination, in an environment where inappropriate behaviour is not acceptable;
- be given opportunities to enable them to develop their potential;
- be able to ask questions and develop their knowledge of equality and diversity issues in an open and constructive learning environment;
- be in a healthy and safe environment free from hazards;
- be able to balance personal, home life and work commitments (e.g. through family- and carer-friendly policies).

If staff believe they have been subject to discrimination in employment, there are a range of steps they can take depending on the nature of the problem. These include trying to resolve the matter with the person concerned in the first instance, raising it with the line manager or HR, or using the grievance or whistle-blowing procedures.

Staff of the service also have a responsibility to treat others with dignity and respect. If staff are found to have acted in a discriminatory manner we will take action appropriate to the nature of the problem, including where necessary the disciplinary procedure.

4. Volunteers

Volunteers contribute significantly to the diversity of the service. They can expect to be treated fairly, with dignity and respect, and without discrimination. They are likewise expected to treat others fairly, with dignity and respect, and without discrimination. Due to the restrictions imposed by employment law, volunteers are not entitled to the same rights and protections as employees.

5. Other aspects of good practice

- Race and disability equality schemes

The Race Relations (Amendment) Act 2000 and Disability Discrimination Act (2005) lays a positive duty to promote race and disability equality on all public bodies. Each body is required to identify its priorities for race and disability equality and take steps to deliver tangible improvements. This is normally set out in an equality scheme. It is likely that new legislation will place a similar duty on public bodies in respect of gender.

Citizens Advice service consists of independent charities, not public bodies. It is not bound by any duties placed on public bodies. Because of its values and its role in persuading public bodies to fulfil their duties, the Citizens Advice service has committed to working within the spirit of any duties to promote equality placed on public bodies and will therefore produce and monitor a race and disability equality scheme as part of this equality and diversity strategy.

Employee Information

At Citizens Advice Derbyshire Districts we believe that success depends on having the right people in the right jobs.

The recruitment protocol on the Citizens Advice Management Information System is followed, to ensure all aspects are carried out consistently and fairly.

All employees, after 3 months, will be automatically enrolled onto the People's Pension fund.
